

UCLA University Women's Leadership Academy

for Mid-Career Women

Empowering Courageous Leaders of Change

The University Women's Leadership Academy is designed to help mid-career women navigate their university careers forward. In the Academy, university leaders provide expert training on the challenges and topics essential for succeeding as a manager and as a leader in various university contexts. The program re-imagines the roles, the value and the impact of women in their current and future positions. We invite you to consider this program.

University Women's Leadership Academy

- Re-imagines university leadership
- Enhances the value of university women's voices and contributions
- Engages university women in lasting institutional change
- Expands women's leadership capacities
- Enlarges women's ability to navigate overt and hidden aspects of the university
- Extends professional options in wide-ranging roles across varied universities
- Encourages equity, access and inclusion across the university

The academy promotes connections between university leaders and participants

All 2021 sessions are through virtual education

Three 2-Day Intensives

March 12-13, April 16-17, and June 11-12

Ten Saturday Mornings

March 6, 27; April 3,
May 1, 15, 29; July 17, 24, 31; August 14

For more information, contact Dr. Linda Rose at lrose@g.ucla.edu.

For application materials, visit www.gseis.ucla.edu/education/academies/ucla-university-womens-leadership-academy/

Deadline to apply is February 12, 2021

UCLA School of Education & Information Studies